BOOKNOTES

Book Group

The Eugene Hotel book group members will meet in the lounge on Monday, June 30th to discuss the book, The Postmistress, by Sarah Blake. a historical novel set in 1940-41, exploring the intersecting lives of three women during the early days of World War II. Iris James, the postmaster of Franklin, Massachusetts, observes the lives of her townspeople, including Emma Trask, a new arrival married to the local doctor. Simultaneously, Frankie Bard, a radio reporter, reports on the Blitz in London with Edward R. Murrow, and the experiences of Frankie, Iris, and Emma are intertwined through their letters and radio broadcasts. The story examines how the war affects different aspects of their lives, both in the relatively sheltered environment of Cape Cod and the violence of London. Iris, who takes her role as a conduit for communication seriously, is faced with a dilemma when she chooses to break her code of ethics by not delivering a letter. Emma, a new arrival in town, finds her life changing course after a tragedy with a patient, and Frankie’s broadcasts, while initially intriguing, eventually lead to devastating news for Iris and Emma.
